40 responses

Regarding Covid, what would you identify as having been implemented or executed well?

23 responses

Lessons from home

Distance learning and essential care

i thought the distance portion was done well, the teacher offered a variety of zoom meetings and my student really enjoyed connecting with his class and teacher on a regular basis even though they couldnt be at school

hybrid programming, safety measures

General state guideline compliance.

The teachers and administration responded to the situation with creativity, flexibility, and compassion. It was clear that they (the administration in particular) took their responsibility toward the children and to the community very seriously.

Communication with the teacher was on point

Regarding Covid, what would you identify as having gone poorly or should have been implemented more effectively?

16 responses

- Idk
- i think the fall was done as well as possible
- Distance learning effectiveness
- I think all the protocols and protections were overkill, were traumatic for the children, and interfered more than was necessary with their education. At the same time, I realize it was a very difficult and delicate situation for the school, the community, the country, and beyond, in which the best course was not clear and much of the school's response was outside it's control.
- To many extra classes each day, would like for one day to be dedicated for those classes
- Direct teaching instruction over zoom instead of just worksheets.
- I understand high expectations of academic work, but a little understanding of when

I am satisfied with the vision and leadership of the Board of Directors.

It encourages children to be self-directed and independent learners, and it provides a kind and supportive environment.

Keeping kids motivated and respectful

Everyone has a common goal to love and educate the students!

Teachers are stellar. Administration is accessible and outstanding. Kids are valued

Do you have suggestions about what could be done to make Bluffview better?

13 responses

Build a high school :)

Idk

Nope. We love Bluffview!

I hope that masks, distancing, and the new sanitizing protocols can soon become a thing of the past, and that the kids can go back to learning in an environment that promotes hands-on learning, collaboration, interactive play, openness, optimism, innocence, and joy.

Ms. Cindy is WONDERFUL, but less sugar in snacks and meals. It's way too much.

I think everyone is doing a great job

Even though social and emotional learning is provided once a week, how can the relationship of the school counselor to students be made more positively? I don't hear much positive feedback, and if there was some more, maybe the students would
